

Committee for issues related with Faculty of Medicine, Allied & Healthcare Professionals and Hospital & Research Centre

Hospitals are organized into departments with each department, for something as complex as healthcare, there are many issues which cut across the responsibilities of more than one department. These issues require people in different roles and with different expertise, to collectively take appropriate decisions and actions. A committee has been formed for issues related with Faculty of Medicine, Allied & Healthcare Professionals and Hospital & Research Centre.
